

Dear Peter,

I am honored to be writing to you on behalf of Sadie Haskell for a Flyin' Ryan Adventure Scholarship. I have had the pleasure of coaching Sadie for the past three seasons and in that time, have taken special notice of her incredible focus, determination, and attitude, not only as an accomplished athlete but as a teammate as well. I believe that her independence, ambition, and care for others are characteristics that resonate deeply with Ryan's core values. Between injuries and setbacks, Sadie continues to put her best foot forward with resiliency and passion, dedicating her goals towards working hard to reach her athletic potential. Following her most recent injury involving a broken leg, she has set her mind not only on making a full recovery but she is striving to hike 30,000 ft in the month of October.

What impresses me the most is that in spite of her personal ambitions, she never loses sight of actively uplifting those around her. Regardless of her own successes, she remains present and supportive towards others, sharing high fives and hugs at the bottom of every competition run. Her fellow teammates look up to and admire Sadie, as she is a silent leader, guiding those around her through her high level of compassion, dedication and care for the Freeskiing community. With fierce determination and a deep love for the sport, Sadie greatly embodies the spirit of Ryan Hawks and I am exceedingly impressed by her capabilities and commitment to growth. It is without hesitation that I recommend Sadie Haskell for a Flyin' Ryan Adventure Scholarship.

Many Thanks,

Emily Crofton
Coach
Mad River Glen Freeskiing Team
ecrofton00@gmail.com