To Whom It May Concern,

I write this letter with my wholehearted support and recommendation for Daniel Ruiz Jimenez- whatever his endeavor.

Over time, I have had the opportunity to mentor Daniel, I have witnessed his growth, drive, and dedication to both his career and passion for his aviation pursuits and broader goals in being a valued member of whatever team he is a part of.

Daniel's inner drive and motivation, curiosity and hands-on ability stands out in any setting. In the time he has spent assisting me with small projects at my company- Nationwide Distribution Supply LLC- providing packing products and equipment to large food processors, manufacturers, construction, farming, and nutraceutical providers-Daniel has helped raise the income and market share of our business.

I have been consistently impressed by his problem-solving skills and creative approach to business challenges. Despite his full schedule as a full-time student, small vending machine business owner at the time and now a full time A&P mechanic at Epic Flight Academy, Daniel volunteered his free time to help with my small business, including supporting our marketing efforts, offering fresh insights and demonstrating an innovative mindset that brought real value to our operations.

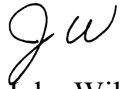

What distinguishes Daniel is not only his enthusiasm, intellect or ambition, but also his kind heart and good character. He approaches every task with a positive attitude and a sincere desire to contribute meaningfully and takes on any task he sets his mind to.

I am confident that Daniel's determination and thoughtful approach will take him far, not only in the aviation field, but in any endeavor he chooses to pursue.

I for one miss having him around. He is one of those rare people who ends up lifting the spirits of those around him while bringing a sense of excellence to everything he does.

Please feel free to contact me if you would like to discuss Daniel's qualifications or character further.

Sincerely,
